

Amanda the Brave

By: Catherine Enright

Prologue

Eleven Years Ago (a year after Amanda was born)

Amanda's mom worked for the police department and was about to catch a robber, but he had a gun, and shot her in the arm. She died. That left Amanda and her dad, alone. Amanda doesn't remember her at all.

Chapter 1

The Sneak Away

Amanda was always very curious, but today was the day she was going to see if the rumors about the haunted forest were true. One day, Hallows Eve actually, when everyone was trick-or-treating, Amanda decided it was time to make her move. She dropped her candy bag and disappeared into the forest.

An hour later, back at home, her friends finally noticed that Amanda was missing! The three girls ran to Amanda's dad as fast as they possibly could. When her dad heard, he freaked out. As the moon rose higher into the night sky, more and more people were searching for Amanda. At 9:00 PM, almost the entire town was searching for her.

Meanwhile, Amanda was falling thousands of feet in the air wondering where she had fallen from. As Amanda hit the ground hard, she looked around and saw she had fallen through a portal.

Chapter 2

Inside the Portal

As Amanda got up, she felt someone staring at her. She looked to her left and saw a viking horse!?! Amanda screamed as loud as she possibly could. The viking horse said "Shh! You'll wake the dolves! By the way, my name is Harry, the vorse." Amanda said, "First off, what are dolves, and second, what's a vorse!?!". Harry explained that a vorse is a viking horse and dolves are wolves that have deer bodies. Amade rode Harry into town where other mystical creatures lived. As the moon rose up into the dark sky in the mystical land, the dolves awakened from their sleep. Their leader Wixon, said, "I sense a child has found our land, we shall snack on it." When the dolves arose from their den, Amanda felt a cold breeze blow past her. All of a sudden, she was nervous. Amanda and Harry arrived at a pleasant hotel. The dolves smelled a child in Harry's foot prints. The dolves decided to follow them.

Harry told Amanda about Sinicx, the evil bear witch who eats children and puts curses on children. Amanda was going to stay as far away from her cabin as possible. What Harry forgot to mention was that Sinicx could poof right next to you. So, of course during the night, Sinicx appeared right next to Amanda, and turned her into a tortoise.

Chapter 3

Undoing the Curse

Harry was greeted surprisingly by Amanda the tortoise. He started looking for a cure instantly. Nothing. They went to the library, still nothing, but when they past the manager's office, something caught Amanda's eye. She nodded toward a glowing book that read "All the spells that shall undo all of Miss Gloria Sinicx's curses." After hours of searching, they finally found it. They sneaked into the manager's office, snatched the book, and ran as fast as they could all the way home. After about seven tries, the spell worked! Amanda was back to her original self. They still had to work with the dolves, though. Then, out of nowhere, Amanda received a letter, which read:

Hello Amanda,
We heard you have arrived in our town recently, and probably want to leave because it is dangerous. If you want to leave, there is one task for you before you go. You must defeat the dolves.
Thank you!

The District of Fantasy Land

"Harry, Harry! All we have to do is defeat the dolves then I can leave! No offense, though," Amanda excitedly said. According to Harry, if you trace your steps from where you had fallen from, you'll find the dolves trying to find you! She retraced her steps, and sure enough, Harry was right. There they were. Amanda started the war with a big kung fu kick she had learned from martial arts class. That paid off. Then it was only Wixon, Amanda and Harry left. Amanda used the one that was the hardest trick ever that she had never perfected, until now. It was her super strength kung fu kick punch kick. She did it. They won! A voice out of nowhere said...

Chapter 4

Going Home

“Hello Amanda, I see you have received our letter. Congratulations on defeating the dolves and uncursing Sinicx’s curse. You are truly amazing. As promised, I will give you the chance to leave this land. Click YES or NO on the black triangle.” Amanda clicked on YES. First, she had to say goodbye to Harry. Happy and sad tears strolled down her cheeks. The black triangle opened and in it was her town. Amanda ran through it and found herself at the beginning of the forest. As she reappeared, leaves began to grow on the trees and everyone was cheering. Amanda was finally back.
